Interim Pastor

The time between pastors is especially trying for many churches. Because of size, location, strife or finances far too many churches languish for years searching for a pastor. I have had the privilege of pastoring for seven years, serving as an interim pastor and helping churches to find a Godly man that fits the needs of their ministry. God has not called me to be a pastor, but He has called me to do all I can to help shepherdless churches. If your church is currently without a pastor, I would be delighted to provide whatever service I am able.

My greatest desire for the church is to help it grow and be strengthened so that it is corporately and individually promoted to a greater obedience to the Word.

To accomplish that task I desire to help carry the burden of shepherding the flock of God in its time of need.

Pastor Search

Sometimes the hardest part of finding a pastor is getting in touch with the right people. Over the years I have been able to develop contacts with institutions, organizations and individuals that allows me to quickly access many resumes. I seek to provide more than just a stack of resumes. I can provide clear guidance and practical help in the entire process, from forming a pulpit committee, to selecting resumes, to contacting prospects and their references to transitioning over to a newly called pastor. The process of searching for a pastor need not be painful, discouraging or fearful. I would be glad to help your church as it goes through its search for God's man.

Pastoral Assistance

Every pastor knows that there are points in the ministry where an extra laborer would be essential. Those times may be due to illness, major church projects, times of family stress or any number of other reasons. I have no desire to supplant or supercede the authority of the pastor, but to serve under the pastor's leadership in assisting his church to grow into the full stature of Christ. My desire is to build up the church so that the result of my relationship with it will be a coming closer to the "measure of the stature of the fullness of Christ."
